DEAR FRIENDS

What was the best Christmas gift you ever received?

---

What was the best Christmas gift you ever received?

A puppy? (oh dear!)

A mobile phone? (oh dear, dear!)

Santa's sleigh? (oh deer, deer, deer!)

For me, it was another form of transportation - my very first bicycle: 25th December 1962.

I remember it well. It was the year of the big freeze. Snow was on the ground. Only one room was heated in the house in those days but the excitement of finding this astonishing present swaddled in cheap wrapping paper and tinsel over the handlebars still warms my heart. Even though it was still dark my daddy took me outside and let me try to ride up and down the lane behind our garage, holding firmly on to the back of my saddle so that I wouldn't crash onto the icy drifts.

That memory is as clear today as it was 57 years ago. The best Christmas gift I ever did receive.

Or was it?

What my kind parents gave me as a wee boy was only a reflection of an even more astonishing gift given by a loving Heavenly Father.

I don't know if it was cold. I don't know if there was snow on the ground or if the stable was heated but on that very first Christmas Day God loved me so much: God loved you so much: God loved us all so much, that He gave us the Lord Jesus Christ in order to transport us from the kingdom of darkness to the Kingdom of light, from the kingdom of the world to the Kingdom of His Son. "Thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift". 2 Corinthians 9:15.

My recollection of receiving that gift of Christ to be my Saviour and Lord many years ago as a wee boy is as precious today as it was many years ago because unlike any 'thing' this gift lasts for ever.

An astonishing gift to be delighted in, received; and enjoyed straight away: and never, ever, forgotten.

Most sincerely

Frank

A YEAR AS AN INTERN

Before going to university, Olivia Elwood took a gap year working with Scripture Union as an intern in the Newtownards and North Down area.

Hi there! My name's Olivia and I'm spending this academic year doing an internship with Scripture Union NI.

I'm one of nine interns on the SUNI team, all of us with different roles. I'm a schools' intern in the Newtownards and North Down E3 Area. This includes me joining the current E3 schools' worker for this area, Rachel Tweedie, for 3 days a week (for me this is Tuesday to Thursday).

My aim while there is to learn what she does in her job and how; mainly through experience, to help Rachel in her various aspects of work. This aim of the E3 Schools Project is to:

- ◆ engage school pupils with opportunities and resources that help them encounter Jesus enabling them to make informed decisions about faith
- ◆ equip Christian teachers and pupils through support and encouragement to allow growth in faith and to glorify God in their schools ◆ empower churches, helping them aid their schools through prayer and opportunities to be involved in schools ministry.

I wanted to do the internship because of the huge involvement of SU in my own walk of faith. SU in school was always a safe place for me and reminder that my value does not lie in exam results but in being a child of God. It was a place for me to form strong Christian friendships I still have to this day and a place where I was able to be in community with girls from the years above me who were amazing witnesses and examples of what it was to live for Jesus in school.

Equally, my involvement with Causeway Girls summer SU camp was a place where I was both encouraged and challenged in my faith. And again, another place where I could find role models of women older than me who modelled what it is to glorify God in the day to day. I also felt strongly God was calling me to a gap year before re-entering full time education in university.

My daily activities when interning differ, however, my main areas of work include school assemblies, SU groups, RE classes and meetings with churches and other organisations we partner with. As the year progresses, I'm taking on more responsibility in my schools' area and eventually I'll be doing SU schools work independently. We're also encouraged as interns to invest in our own journey of faith through following a bible in a year reading plan, reading Christian literature and being given opportunities to discuss and learn from the staff.

There's love that Jesus puts into our hearts, a love I never knew

It's a love so indescribable that's available to you.

It's this love that surrounds us every day, that only God imparts.

Although you may know it now, but you need it in your heart.

The Word of God has power that everybody needs

It comes from God the Father for hungry souls to feed.

It only has one source, it comes no other way.

You'll only know it in your life when you humbly kneel and pray.

John Maxwell

It's finally lit,
Now there's warmth from the fire
Let's sit down to rest as the sheep starts to tire

When suddenly light and the heavenly host
It's alright, calm down, I'm not a ghost.
I've come to share the Good news of joy
It all revolves around one special boy.

Now hurry to find him and worship him there
The wise men are waiting with their gifts to share.
Oil's, frankincense, spices and gold
All to worship this baby of Old.

He's wrapped in some blankets asleep on the straw
As strangers edge closer all trembling in awe.
It's not even a hotel or Holiday Inn
But here lies God's Son on a mission for sin.

With each passing moment excitement is growing
I burst out of the stable, the cattle still lowing.
Spread the word, have you seen him? He's finally here!
The one you've been longing for, this is the year!

The greatest gift we'll ever receive
It all happened the day after Christmas Eve
A baby, a King and saviour as well
God's Son is with us - Immanuel.

MOLDOVA 2019

In mid-October John McKibbin and Andrew and Katie Shott went to Moldova to encourage our brothers and sisters there & serve the Lord in different ways.

In mid October, a small group from Bloomfield went to Moldova to encourage our brothers and sisters there and serve the Lord in different ways. Bill Addley and John Chapman headed to the 'Riches of Grace University' for one and two weeks respectively; Bill to teach the Bible and mission to students and John to lecture in HR from his years of experience in business. John McKibbin and Andrew and Katie Shott packed a lot into their short visit, having the privilege of renewing fellowship with Pastor Cornel, wife Leila, Kolia and all the church family at Golgota Baptist, as well as visiting the various works that BPC partners with both in prayer and financially.

On the Friday evening, Katie met with 26 ladies from Golgota to share from God's word and enjoy fellowship together while John and Andrew went shopping for groceries to make up food hampers to bless village families!

Saturday morning, after a trip to market to get the best deal on sacks of spuds and crates of oranges, we headed out to Cuiculenii village. Pastor Stefan is doing a great job ministering at the church plant there and reaching out into the community. At a special Saturday morning service, Andrew shared from God's Word and the believers there were excited to receive the literature we'd brought, printed in their own language, to help them share the gospel with their Orthodox neighbours. The food hampers were a real help and practical blessing for them also.

Pastor Stefan, Christina his wife and their family- Solomon (4) Abigail (2) and baby Enoch have settled well in Cuiculenii and are a bright light both there and in the neighbouring village, Dragusenii Noi. There is great struggle financially for the entire community and Stefan took us to visit a very poor family there who have recently come to faith. Prior to this trip, John had had the vision of possibly facilitating a micro finance project. So when Stefan highlighted this particular need, we were delighted to be able to provide, through the generous giving of folks in BPC, the much needed machinery, in the form of a plough, to help those in that village to work the land and ultimately support themselves financially.

On Sunday John, Andrew and Katie joined in worship at Golgota while Bill and John fellowshipped at Speranta church, where Bill gave the charge to newly appointed elders being ordained.

The Island of Hope College continues to do great work providing further education teaching practical skills, such as catering and hairdressing, to equip students for employment. John discovered that the Government did not provide for the college this year at all, so the financial support from BPC was a life line.

Leila (Pastor Cornel's wife) also works for the relief and development agency 'Dorcas International' who minister in Moldova (which is the poorest country in Europe). Those who suffer most are the elderly. So, as part of their 'Adopt a

Stefan, Christina and family

Granny' project we visited a 90 year old lady, Olga, who receives food and firewood for winter. 'Dorcas' is helping thousands of old people like her throughout Moldova.

Bill and John were greatly used at the University and both have been invited back in 2020! Do chat to them to hear more of their different experiences there. Andrea Harbinson is just back from having been out in Moldova again, sharing her expertise and skills in music therapy at a 'Dorcas' Conference. She also had opportunity to encourage the ladies of Golgota church from God's Word at their fellowship meeting and join in Sunday worship as well. God is at work in Moldova and it is a privilege for BPC to partner with the church family there. Please keep them in your prayers - and keep saving those pennies, it really makes a difference in helping share the love of Jesus in much needed practical ways!

Bloomfield Christmas Card 2019

This year's Christmas card was designed by the BB and donations will go to TearFund. The idea is, rather than giving a card to your many church friends, you will be able to make a donation, sign the card and bring joy and Jesus' love to others.

The card is available to sign on the communion table at the front of the church from 1st - 29nd December 2019. If you have any difficulty in locating it, please ask anyone on reception.

Thank you for your kindness and generosity. We do this in order to share God's love and, as we all know, every little counts!

CHARIS

Go out into the streets and alleys, the highways and the byways, find the disabled, the lame and the blind, bring them in so that the Father's house may be full.

---

The foundational verse that Charis rests upon is Luke 14v 12-14; “Go out into the streets and alleys, the highways and the byways, find the disabled, the lame and the blind, bring them in so that the Father’s house may be full.” It’s as simple as that.

Charis is friendship, fun and laughter. It is downtime for our families where they know that it is the child we see and not the disability. It is crafting, sensory activities and soft play. It is a cup of tea and a scone. Unexpected gifts of money have met every practical need without us having to ask for financial help. It’s lovely to tell the parents that every trip and activity is free. This enables us to be extravagant for Jesus.

The children and young adults attending have varied and complex needs. The parents and families are dealing with very difficult situations. Parents can be distraught because of the impact of their child’s disability - there may be difficulties with school placements or a lack of provision. Some of the older children have reached the point where they need residential care and the process of finding the best place for their child and dealing with the feelings of loss can be very traumatic.

In Charis we can listen, we can share experiences, we can comfort, but even more importantly we can offer prayer.

The Christian ethos of Charis is clear to our parents. We want to show them what knowing Jesus means to us and how it impacts our lives. They are happy to ask for prayer, even those with no faith. Their lives can be so difficult that they welcome prayer. Many of our children have little or no speech and limited understanding so we tell Bible stories in a simple way and use occasions like Christmas and Easter to share the gospel, sing and make a joyful noise! Anything we can incorporate into our morning which can be used to share Jesus' love.

We have been blessed over the past 10 years with a team of willing volunteers, with wonderful families and with the faithful prayers of many. Our vision for the future is that we will continue to be able to show the love of Jesus to our families through our words ,our conversations and our actions. We want to be used by God to bring more people into the Father's house and to watch God change lives.

We have been meeting in Orangefield Presbyterian Church while our building work is going on. We cannot thank them enough for their hospitality and how they have embraced us and our families and we hope to maintain links with them. We are looking forward to moving back into our new halls and have a vision for the future profile of the Charis families within the Bloomfield church family. We want to explore how we can welcome children with special needs and their families into church and how best to help them. We hope to look at the Additional Needs Teams in other churches to see if we could learn from them.

Is there still work to do? YES

Do we need help? YES

There is still so much we can do and we will always welcome anyone who feels they would like to become part of the Charis team. Charis is not just a place or an organisation. Charis is an experience - a wonderful, joyful, blessed experience.

Graces to say before sharing a meal

On Harvest Thanksgiving Sunday, we watched a DVD at church about a boy called Eric (by Dai Hankey) who said ‘Thanks’ to a whole variety of people for his food. He thanked his mum. He thanked the shop keeper. He thanked the delivery man. He thanked the farmer who in turn suggested Eric thank God for sending the sun and rain making the crops grow in the first place.

Frank then encouraged us to express our appreciation to God for the food we eat by saying a simple ‘grace’ every time we sit down and have a meal together. Just as Jesus gave thanks before he ate (Luke 24:30) and the Apostle Paul did likewise (Acts 27:35) it is both appropriate to say ‘thankyou’ to God for his provision for us, but in a world where many people live in poverty and starvation it is also vital that we never take God’s kind provision for granted.

Saying grace is also an act of witness either among visitors to our home or to those outside.

Here are some graces, which you may like to use on a rotational basis before eating with your family or from which you might chose to adopt one as your own depending upon the age of family members.

Gracious God, we have sinned against You, and are unworthy of Your mercy; Pardon our sins, and help us to eat and drink to Your glory, for Christ's sake. Amen.

Father, thank you for this wonderful food. Please bless those who have prepared this meal for us. We invite your Holy Spirit to be with us as we enjoy this time together. As we eat and drink may we celebrate the love and goodness you give us all each day. Amen.

The Selkirk Grace, a thanksgiving used at Scottish Burns Supper evenings. This prayer was made popular by Scottish poet, Robert Burns (1759-1796).

*Some have meat and cannot eat;
Some cannot eat that want it:
But we have meat and we can eat
So let the Lord be thank-ed.*

Lord, thank you for the food before us,
The family and friends beside us
And the love shared between us. Amen.

*Dear Lord, thank you for this food.
Bless the hands that prepared it.
Bless it to our use and us in your service,
And make us ever mindful of the needs of others.
Through Christ our Lord we pray.
Amen.*

*Thankyou for the world so sweet
Thankyou for the food we eat
Thankyou for the birds that sing

Superman grace:
*Thankyou God for giving us food
Thankyou God for giving us food
For the friends that we meet
And the foods that we eat
Thankyou God for giving us food.*

For fun, food and friendship
we give you thanks O God. Amen

Irish Grace: Bless, O Lord, this food we are about to eat; and we pray You, O God, that it may be good for our body and soul; and if there be any poor person hungry or thirsty walking along the road, send them to us that we can share the food with them, just as You share your gifts with all of us.

A FIRM FOUNDATION

Peering through glass doors into our new halls, you will see they are nearing completion and so on Saturday 19th October 2019 we held a small service to unveil the Foundation Stone.

---

On Saturday 19th October we held a small service to unveil the Foundation Stone in our new annexe. This was conducted by our minister, Rev Dr Frank Sellar. As this is still a construction area, we were only allowed to have a small group of people present. We decided to record the event on video and then share this with the congregation at the Sunday morning service. This video made by David Bell is now available to see on the church website.

You may be interested to know that the foundation stone was cut from one of the lintels in the old building. The artwork on the foundation stone was designed by Colin Maguire.

The first phase of the building work was completed in September when the existing building was handed back to us. From the comments that I and my colleagues on the steering group have received I believe everyone is delighted with the results. The Megaw Hall is now increased in size and has gained a servery. The office, minister's room and gents toilets have all been refurbished. On the first floor, the Frackleton Hall has had a makeover. The stage was removed, a new heating system fitted and the walls painted. It does make quite a difference. Again photographs of the work can be seen on the church website.

We are now looking forward to the finishing of our new annexe. This is scheduled for January, which is three months earlier than planned. This will give us much needed increased space for all our organisations and hopefully new opportunities for the local community.

The work at Storehouse continues to grow; the need for help is great and shows no sign of diminishing. Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday the service users come with their referral letters to get practical provisions – food, clothes, furniture and basic household goods. So far this year, they have given out:

- 1639 food parcels
- 1120 Items of furniture
- 8158 Items of clothing

There's been 2579 visits to the Storehouse Centre and 9900 Volunteer hours! In the last couple of months, they've started two new projects – Bake and Create.

Bake is for Ladies only – it is what it says.... an opportunity to join with a small group of other ladies to bake cakes or buns and then eat it afterwards – more importantly, it provides a safe place to have conversation and build friendship.

Create has proved so popular with men and women. So far they have created a large hanging mural which is proudly on display in the Storehouse Centre, they've also done some sketching and had watercolour painting lessons.

On Tuesdays there are guitar lessons. Bake takes place in the afternoon and in the evening is The Table, which is the monthly meal where some folk prepare the food and then everyone serves and tidies up afterwards. This is still so popular; again a safe place for people to come, to share their story and to be listened to and to listen to others.

Thursday is Create at the Storehouse Centre. Then at the Warehouse in Dunmurry, the volunteers meet to sort food donations and make up food parcels ready for collection. Also, on Thursday, they offer One Stop, where folk can come with their referral letter to get provisions etc. from Storehouse, but there are also other agencies there who can help and offer advice on housing, benefits etc.

On Friday morning, a small group of volunteers go onto the streets of Belfast and chat to the homeless – offer a listening ear and practical help back at the Storehouse Centre, should they wish to avail of that. On Friday evening there is a Referral Session for the service users.

All these events that are taking place are all about offering practical help, but even more so, they are offering support, friendship, and helping folk who have no self-worth to actually know that they are precious to God and are valued.

As Belfast grows, Storehouse want to be able to respond to the ever-changing needs of our city.

It has always been their aim to build slowly and sustainably, ensuring that they remain a faithful presence of hope in our communities – for the long haul. They therefore choose not to access any public funding, so that they can stay in control of what happens in Storehouse and are not limited by the restrictions that funding streams can sometimes put in place.

With that in mind, they have a new initiative called Storehouse 500. In brief, the aim is to bring together 500 people who are committed to donating just £10 every month.

And to quote Storehouse “This allows them to build and plan strategically for the future. Every donation they receive helps see dignity restored, significance recognized, and hope released in the lives of those they serve.”

If this is something you might be interested in, you will find a leaflet at the Welcome Desk or check the Storehouse website or Facebook page.

Storehouse are busy at present collecting donations and preparing 175 hampers to give out this Christmas. These will contain all the fresh food that is required to prepare a delicious Christmas turkey dinner and of course some sweet treats for afters.

Thank you for your faithful and generous support for Storehouse over this past year - it is much appreciated by many.

If you have any questions about the work of Storehouse, please don't hesitate to ask.

Samaritan's Purse

A big thank you to all who left shoe boxes this year. We collected a total of 110 boxes. As usual, we sold the decorated boxes for 50p each and after expenses we were able to donate £41.50 to Samaritan Purse.

The shoe boxes from BPC are going to the Middle East to refugee camps.

Thanks to the two helpers at the church and also to Victoria for helping me on Sunday mornings selling the boxes and help delivering them to the collection point. We were glad it was a dry night this year.

We wish you God's richest blessing this Christmas.

vivienne & Victoria

Church flowers

Each week we have a beautiful arrangement of flowers on top of the organ. These are provided by donations from various people who use this as a way of remembering a loved one or a special anniversary. The flowers are then distributed during the week to someone who is ill or housebound.

Sometimes they are given to someone just to let them know we are thinking of them. This is a wonderful service and we greatly appreciate all those who contribute in this way.

If this is a ministry you would like to become involved in please speak to Joyce Manson. Contributors during this year are as follows:

Margaret Ball, Esther Drennan

Ethel Galbraith, Lily Getty

Olwyn Kernahan, L Kyle

Pearl Kerr, Edna Manson

Joyce Manson, Isobel Miskelly

Jeanette Montgomery, Evelyn
McDermott

Edith Pearce, Norma Rea

Margaret Reid, Barbara Steele

GIFT AID

If you are a tax payer and sign up for Gift Aid, the Government will give the Church a further 25% of the amount you give yourself. For example, for every £1 you give to church, the government will give church 25p. This means:

£100 becomes £125

£500 becomes £625

£1000 becomes £1250

All you have to do is fill in a Gift Aid declaration, available at the Welcome Desk. This one declaration will cover all the money you contribute through Bloomfield Presbyterian. Your financial details are not required on the form and the church does not know anything about your financial circumstances.

Last year we received just over £50,000 from HMRC. So please, if you pay tax and haven't yet signed up, complete a Gift Aid Declaration and place in the Gift Aid pigeon hole.

If you have any queries please do not hesitate to contact me.
